

2011 Australian Training Awards - TAFE SA Regional receives Large Training Provider of the Year Award

Regen Power would like to congratulate TAFE SA Regional on receiving the Large Training Provider of the Year Award 2011. This award demonstrates the quality and outstanding reputation of our TAFE partners in South Australia.

TAFE SA Regional delivers 573 nationally accredited qualifications at 43 campuses and learning centres across regional South Australia. In 2010, TAFE SA Regional enrolled more than 24,000 students. As a public provider, TAFE SA Regional supports South Australia's social and economic development through training that enhances career options, fosters regional employment and increases access for the disadvantaged and disengaged. TAFE SA Regional prides itself on its ability to identify opportunities, overcome challenges and work with and for its communities.

The transition from a fossil fuel driven energy system to the renewable energy based systems of the future requires a concerted effort for capacity building. Regen Power has collaborated with Mount Gambier Regional TAFE and Whyalla Regional TAFE in the design , supply , installation and training of small scale solar and wind energy systems .

We believe that TAFE SA Regional is ideally suited for training Australian and International technicians and engineers on wind resource assessment, wind turbine and solar/wind/ diesel hybrid system installations, applications of renewable energy in water delivery and treatment. From our company perspective, training technician engineers and the public about sustainable energy systems is of utmost importance given that this is a government priority. We feel that a practically oriented course would provide a good entry point into employment in the renewable energy sector.
